ENGLISH

The power of speech and the beauty of expression find their birthplaces through the study of English. Here are found the tools with which the student forms his ideas and builds his background of language and culture. This department presents the bases of fundamental skills to its students for use in all classes.

ENGLISH

As a student reads the blueprints of literature, he builds for himself a concept of fine expression. He explores the past, and notable figures live again in his heart and mind. He may be inspired to make a contribution to the present and the future. In this department students participate in the Writers' Club, the production of The Coyote and The Coyote News.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

To project the record of man and his achievements for each student and to help him to understand the social, economic and political aspects of the world are the purposes of the social science department. In order to understand world problems, each student must have a knowledge of the many upheavals that have been characteristic of this world since the beginning of recorded time. Texas history, American history, world history, economics and civics are the social science courses provided for each student.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Other aims of the social science division are to insure the student an appreciation of his heritage and to provide him with an intelligent approach toward the future. Another major objective of the department is to stress the democratic way of life and the freedom of the individual and of enterprise. Such development is important because progress is gauged by an understanding of each one's part in affairs.

MATHEMATICS

As life in this world becomes more and more technical, the importance of mathematics is increasing because it is the basis of technology. Each student has the opportunity to learn the basic concepts and relationships and has a chance to develop the skills that arithmetic, algebra, geometry and trigonometry can provide.

SCIENCE

Science stands by every seeker of knowledge as an interpreter of the physical universe. It is a technician within itself, whereby the student investigates the material kingdoms of the earth—whether that kingdom is vegetable, mineral or animal. No one can know his world until he learns something of biology, chemistry and physics.

SAFETY EDUCATION DRIVER TRAINING

Safety Education Driver Training includes classroom discussion and demonstrations which precede or parallel actual driving experiences. Each student learns not only the fundamentals of safe driving but also the functions of the various mechanisms of an automobile. In addition to these studies, the department emphasizes wholesome attitudes toward driving safety and knowledge of the rules of the highway.

LATIN

Latin may well be called a telescope with which one can look into the past and feel the impact of the Roman legions marching victoriously on the field of battle or the stirred emotions of the people moved by the force of mythology. Latin is the basis of many languages but more particularly of our own, since fifty per cent of English words are derived from this source. Latin thus seems a great seeing eye.

SPANISH

In addition to the study of the language itself, the Spanish department emphasizes the customs, dress and habits of the Spanish-speaking peoples. The first and second years are devoted to the study of grammar and the basic essentials, and the third and fourth year classes read novels and other materials. The courses offered in WFSH provide an excellent background for further study of the Spanish language and literature.

ART

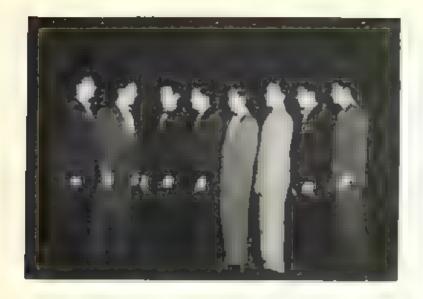

From the basis gained from the study of the art courses offered in WFSH, the student can continue art as a career after graduation or can do art work only for enjoyment. Art in advertising, block printing, lettering, layout design, and finger painting are special phases of study which can serve as a foundation for a future vocation. In addition the department offers drawing, modeling, painting and stenciling.

MUSIC

Music is not only poetry and rhythm, but it is philosophy. Through it every emotion is expressed—every ideal—every purpose. In this field of study, as a student expresses himself through the medium of such activities as a cappella choirs, ensembles, quartets and glee clubs, he is taught to legislate against discords. The most significant lesson one could learn would be harmony. Self-discipline and order in one's day will bring success and happiness. Where there are order, beauty and harmony, there can always be found a true symphony of life.

"Without a song, the day would never end "

"Here Comes the Band"

BAND

In addition to serving the school throughout the year, the Coyote Band has participated in parades, contests, concerts and other civic affairs. As a result of the many hours spent in practice, the members of the band have learned the importance of drill, teamwork and co-operation.

SPEECH

Speech is the articulate manner of expressing all moods and thoughts. Without it, our society as we know it would disappear. It is very important for the sakes of poise and self confidence that we study this art. In the speech department of WFSH, the courses offered include fundamentals, debate, platform speaking, radio and dramatics.

"Feudin', Fussin', and Fightin'"

The officers include John Mark Hirschi, president; Jon Dell Brasher, vice-president; Shirley Moore, secretary; Frank Kell Cahoon, business manager; Mabel Harrison and Marilyn Boren, publicity.

NATIONAL THESPIAN SOCIETY

Initiation of charter members, installation of officers and a reception formally introduced to Wichita Falls Senior High School a new organization, Troupe 1164 of the National Thespian Society on the night of October 3, 1951. Formerly known as the Footlight Players' Club, the organization gives two three-act plays, a Christmas pageant, a musical, and numerous one-act presentations for civic clubs, military and religious organizations, hospitals and school assemblies. Other activities include tournament work in plays, declamations and other individual speaking engagements. Miss Elizabeth Geer directs all phases of NTS work.

HOME ECONOMICS

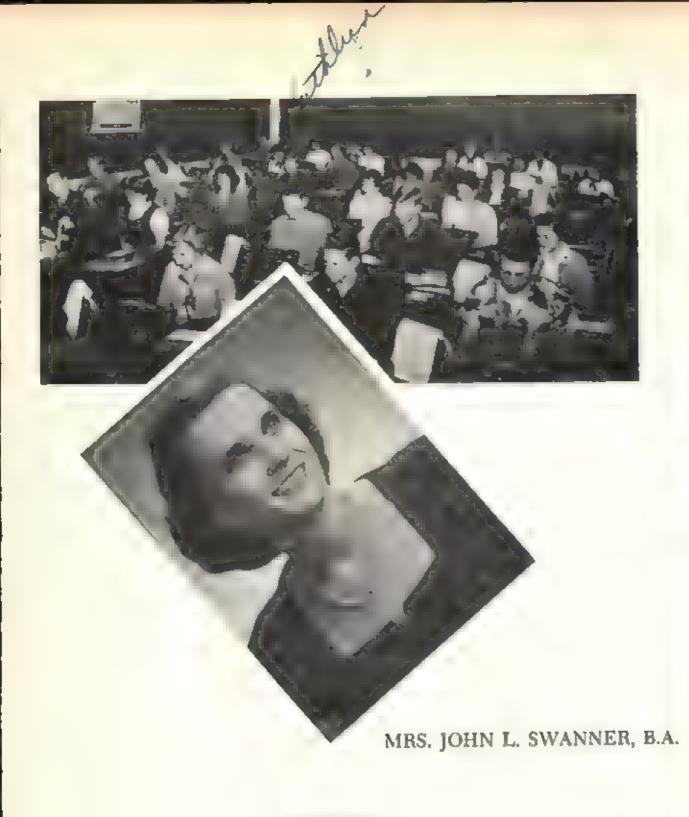

The Home Economics department prides itself in the fact that it not only teaches young people to sew and cook but also encourages careful study and thought about problems of health and welfare. Preparation for the home of the future is given an ample beginning in the homemaking classes of WFSH.

COMMERCIAL

The business student who plans to do secretarial or general office work receives in the beginning typewriting, shorthand, and bookkeeping training that may be preliminary to actual work after graduation. These courses also guide him in the proper development of his personal qualities so that he will be more likely to succeed on the job.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

Distributive Education is a part-time training program for selected juniors and seniors who are prepared for entrance into the field of retailing through classroom study and actual work experience. By attending school only half of the day, students can spend the other part in a retail store which serves as a training station. These students are under the supervision of Mrs. Julia Crissey.

DIVERSIFIED OCCUPATION

Diversified Occupation is a plan of study which provides a part-time training program insuring for students an employment record with a reputable firm. In size and accomplishments the WFSH group is ranked third in Texas. Sam W. King directs the students at school and on the job.

STAGECRAFT

Many times the auditorium has been filled by the noise of hammers, saws and the odors of fresh paints. The stagecraft department was busy doing its work on the preparation of sets for the dramatic productions of National Thespian Society and Amateur Guild. Also the department makes decorations for social activities of the school.

SHOP AND MECHANICAL DRAWING

Shop and mechanical drawing are cultural subjects as well as practical ones. The mechanical drawing department has constructive imagination and exactness of thought for its purposes, and those who take shop can continue working with wood as a hobby or as a vocation after graduation.

ROTC

In preparation to be an officer, Reserve Officers Training Course offers each student much more than military training. He is subjected to an increasingly difficult series of mental challenges. He gains information, tolerance, appreciation and understanding of the problems of mankind, and he grows mature and broadens in interest. ROTC prepares young men not only for military service but also for all works of life. Character, knowledge, instruction, morals and discipline are the qualities which ROTC stresses. The student who grasps the concepts projected by ROTC will be the man to rely on and respect.

LIBRARY AND STUDY HALLS

In 1924 Snider Library was established by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Snider. The two donated generously to the department, and since Mr. Snider's death in 1947, Mrs. Snider has continued each year to give books and subscriptions to periodicals. To enable the reader to find books and references easily, the library provides a card catalogue and the Readers' Guide. The library now subscribes to ninety-nine magazines and has over 12,000 volumes on the shelves. Students who desire a free period to prepare assigned work find that the study halls offer them a quiet, unbroken hour for prearation or a chance to use the library.

They've got those "Study Hall Blues."

GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The body is the soil in which the mind grows, and a student's health is primary in any good educational program. Every girl learns this fact in WFSH where the physical education activities include dancing, games and sports to insure the development of poise and grace.

BOYS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Gymnasiums and recreational grounds are the classrooms and laboratories for physical education, and recreational implements take the place of books and pencils. The opportunities to use the trampoline and parallel bars, to tumble and to play football and basketball strengthen each student in growth and development and enable him to discover the enjoyment which can be acquired through physical education.

NURSE

Students and teachers who become ill receive the immediate attention of Mrs. R. E. Cole, nurse of WFSH. Her duties include swabbing throats, taking temperatures and dressing scratches and small cuts. The nurse's room has five beds and extensive medical supplies for any who become ill.

CAFETERIA

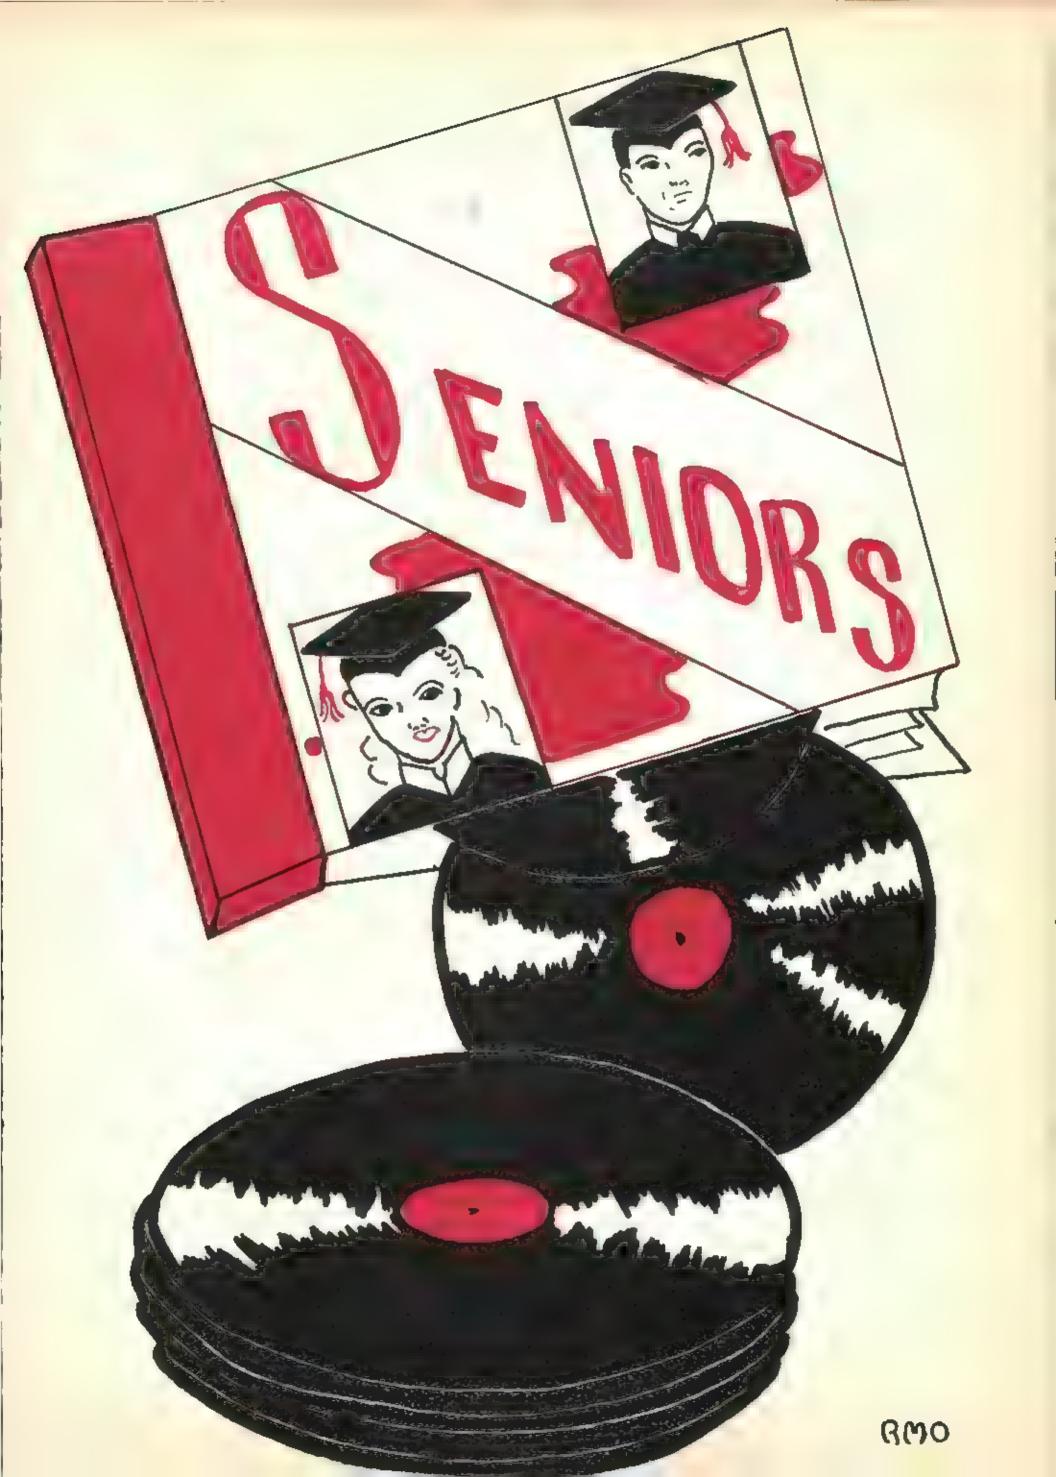

WFSH provides an excellent cafeteria service for the students and teachers, its program being not only one of solid food but also one of sound economy. It is under the efficient direction of Mrs. Eula B. Wilson.

"It Is No Secret" what the Home Room Representatives have done for our school during the past years. They "Try a Little Harder" to help all WFSHers to have a better school each year. Still another purpose is to urge students to participate in all activities.

Here comes the "Brain Trust." This bright-eyed group is "Sitting on Top of the World" in WFSH. Using their wit and time, they attempt to help the "Slow Poke" student melt his teacher's "Cold, Cold Heart."

MUSIC CLUB

President:-Jerry Massey

Vice-President:-Monta Rea Radford

All members of the Music Club eagerly await each club meeting to hear "Music by the Angels." Each program is presented by either a school or a civic group, and from the variety of programs members gain better understanding and appreciation of music. Membership in this club, however, is limited to students of the Music Department.

Girls' Chorus and Mixed Chorus compose two of the groups in the Music Department. Many members of these two sets will become members of the A Cappella Choir.

Mr. Bryan Lovelace

"The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You" is the feeling of the members of the Junior Historian Club because they study to increase their knowledge of local history and Texas. All are among the most loyal and eager supporters of the "Lone Star State," and they prove their loyalty by subscribing to the "Junior Historian Magazine" as well as by attending the Texas State Historical Association meeting held in Austin each spring.

VISUAL EDUCATION

The Visual Education Department is an important unit in WFSH, since its purpose is to provide aids in teaching. The dark room seats more than one hundred and is in use each period of the day. If the old Chinese proverb, "One picture is worth a thousand words," is true, then words are inadequate to estimate the value of visual aids in learning! Every department is served through film strips, records, tape recordings—anything to catch the eye and to awake hearing interest.

Glen Swarts Jerry Biggs Joe Ledford COYOTE MANAGERS

This year's Coyote managers, Jerry Biggs, Joe Ledford and Glen Swarts, proved great assets to the team. Having worked hard at all times to fulfill their tasks, they were appreciated by both coaches and players. Glen returns to this work next year, but Joe and Jerry are members of the May class of graduates. Jerry 148 served as Coyote manager for two years.

BUDDY HENDERSON

Buddy displayed to everyone good clean sportsmanship on and off the field of play. His ability to quarterback the team will be missed greatly. This was Buddy's third season on the Coyote squad.

BILL LAND

"Moe's" pass catching and his all-around ability on both offense and defense earned him a first team position on the all-district squad. His end position will be hard to fill next season.

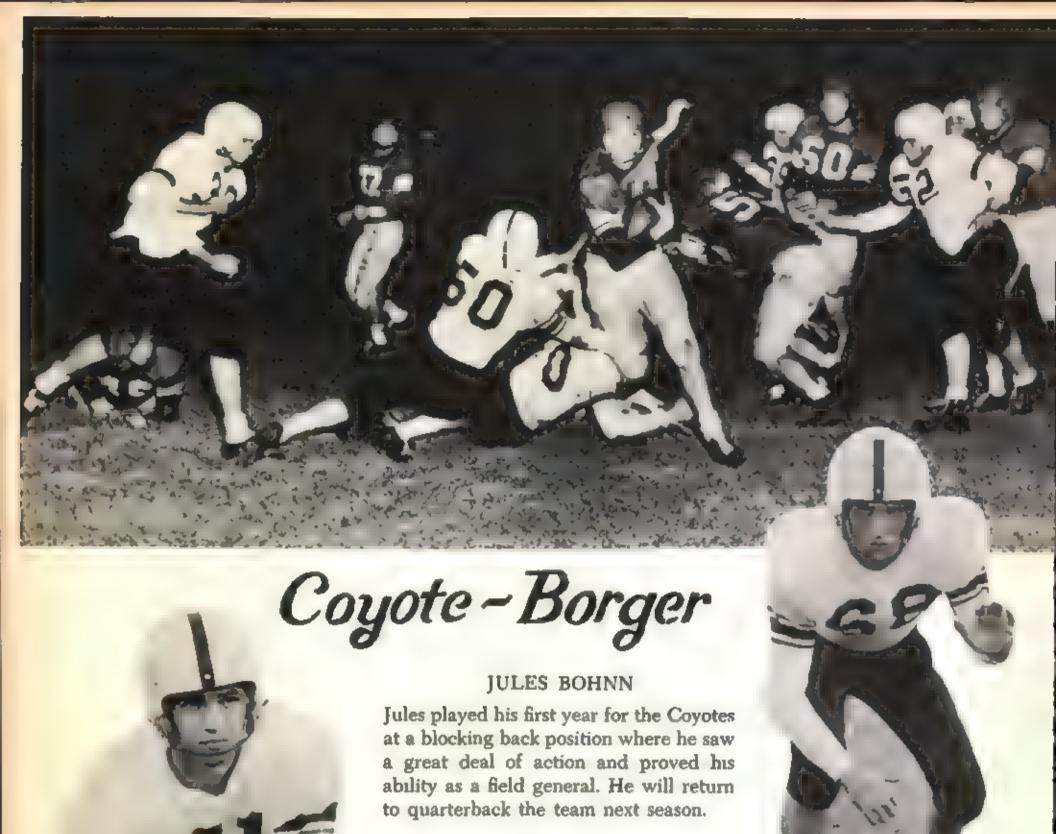

BILLY TURNER

"Crawdad" played his senior year at a guard position and always showed his desire and will to play. His hustle will be missed by next year's team.

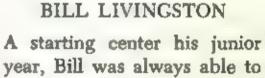

Leon was a stalwart lineman for this year's Coyotes. Playing at guard, he gained a slot on the all-district first team with his hard, consistent blocking. He will rejoin the team for another season.

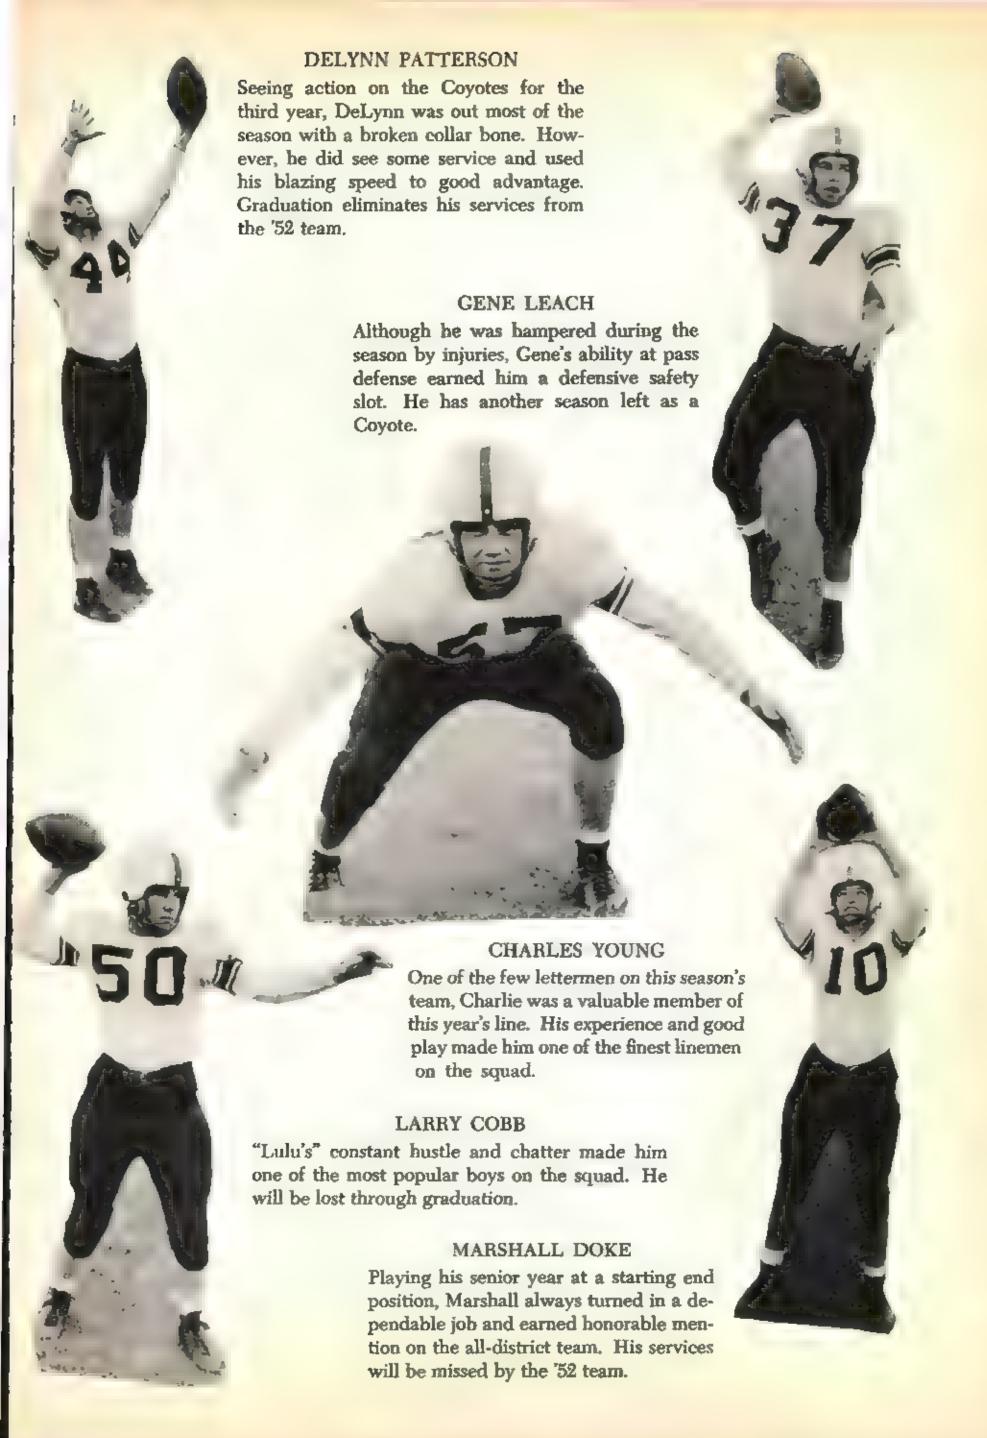

DON SKELTON

Don proved to be a fine pass receiver and a capable end on the reserves, and his services will strengthen next year's squad.

turn in a fine job at the pivot post. He will return to claim his starting berth in '52.

KENNETH ROBERTS

Kenneth was a triple threat Coyote back. His ground-gaining abilities made him one of the most feared backs in the district and rated him a position on the second all-district team. His prospects for next season are extremely bright.

JIMMY PATTERSON

"Little Pat" was the smallest man on the squad but one of the fastest. Playing at a wingback slot, he proved to be outstanding on reverse runs and pass plays. Jimmy rated honorable mention on the all-district team and will return for more action next year.

FREDDIE BRIDGES

Playing at a tackle position his first year on the Coyotes, Freddie gained experience which should be of great value to him when he returns to claim a starting berth,

DON MARONEY

Don proved to be one of the most dangerous backs to wear the Coyote colors. Equally adept at running, passing and kicking, he was the leading scorer in the district and was placed on the first all-district team. He should be one of the main cogs in the Coyote machine next season.

Waco

JERRY SAM CLIFTON

Seeing action at defensive halfback and offensive fullback, Sam gained the respect of both players and coaches with his bruising tackling and hard running. His talents will greatly bolster the Coyote backfield in '52.

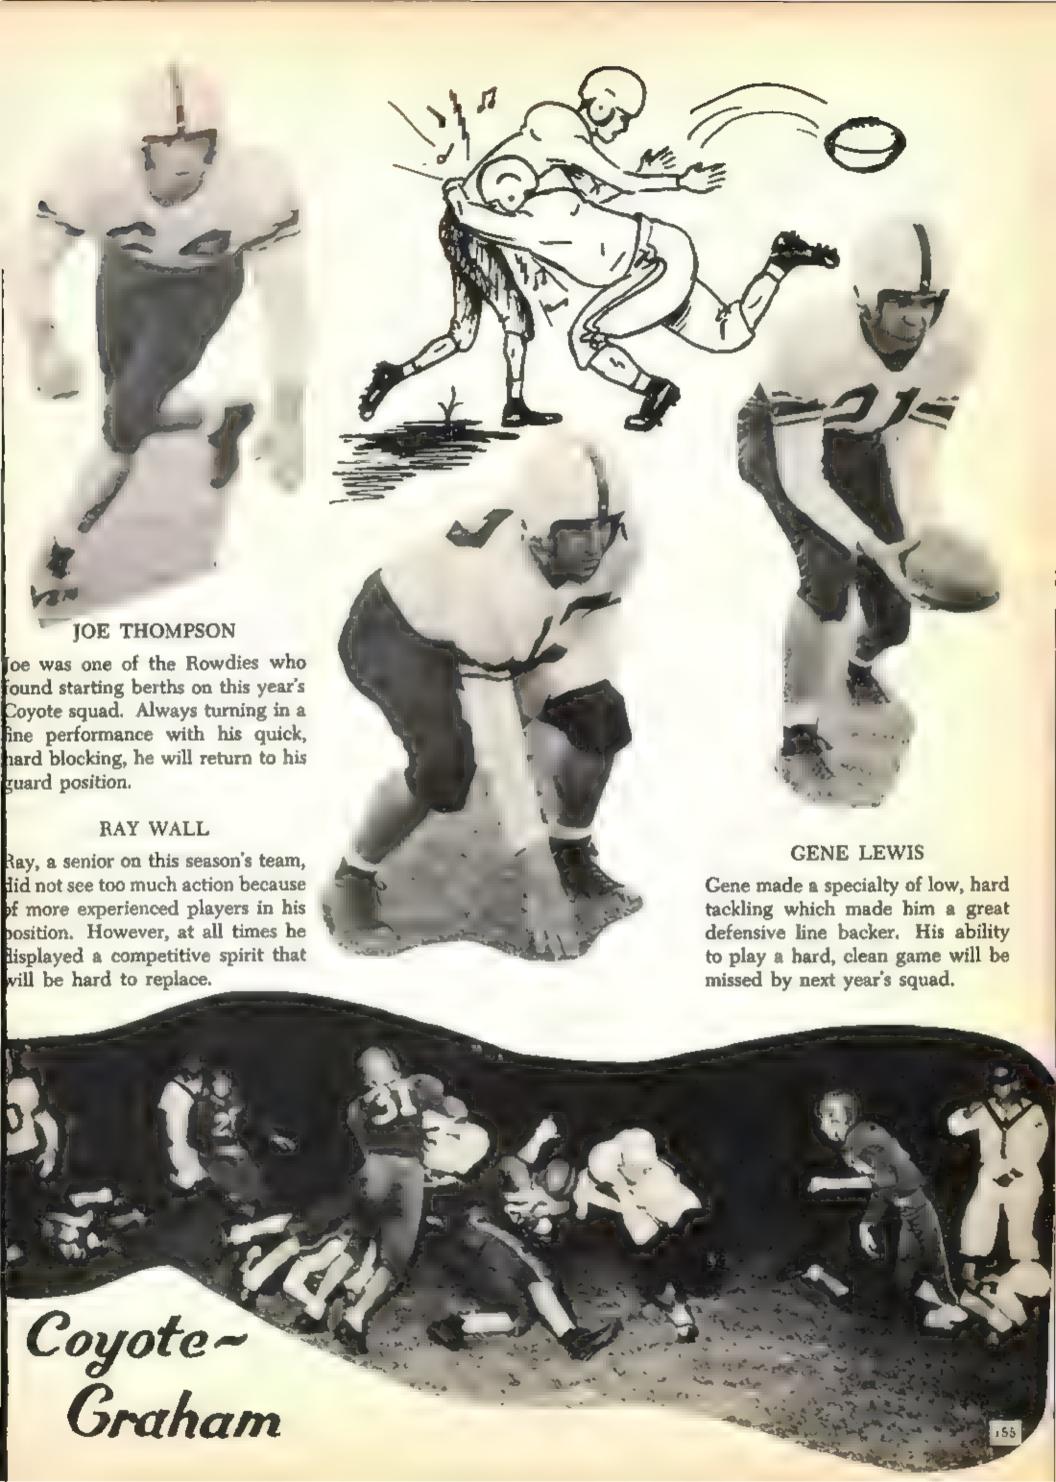

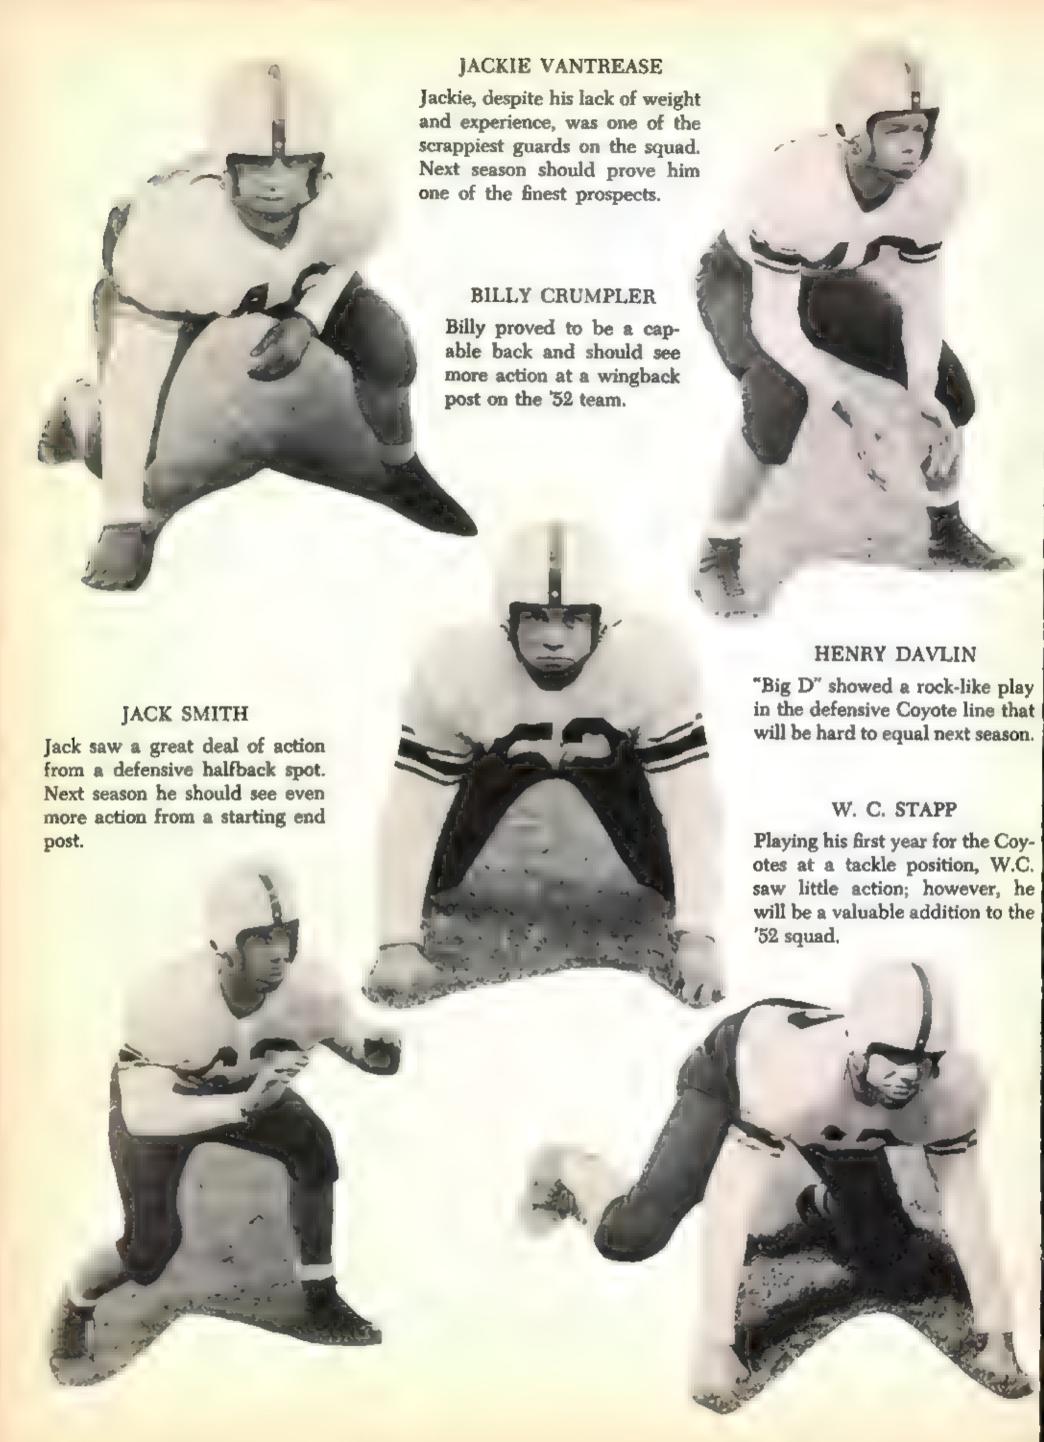

DALE KESSEL

Dale was a valuable asset to the team at a center position. Although he did not see much action this year, his experience will greatly strengthen next year's team.

KENNETH NORTHCUTT

Kenneth's hustle and fine play won him a starting berth on defense where he made many game-saving tackles. He will return to claim a tackle position.

ELDON PATTERSON

Playing this year as a defensive end, Eldon proved himself able to turn in a fine game and earned honorable mention on the all-district team. He will return for another year.

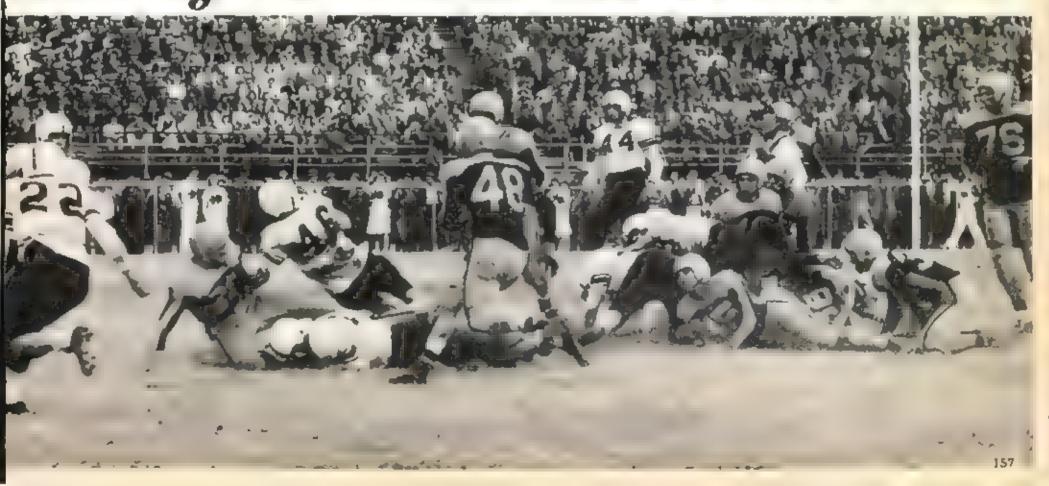

CLAUDE VESSELS

"Tiger," despite his being one of the lightest players on the squad, showed determination and a desire

Coyote to play. He will return as a member of next year's line.
